Friday, December 24. 1714.

An humble Address of the Grand-Jury of the County of Middlesex, presented to his Majesty by Sir Edward Gould Fore-man and the rest of the Grand-Jury; introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Viscount Townshend, one of his Majesty's principal Secretaries of State.

To his most Excellent Majesty George King of Great-Britain, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, &c.

WE your Majesty's most dutiful Subjects beg Leave to lay hold on this first Opportunity of congratulating your Majesty's safe and peaceable Accession to the Throne of these Kingdoms, and of professing with the highest Sincerity, our zealous Affection for your true Interest and Service.

We acknowledge your Majesty to be our sole Rightful and Lawful Sovereign.

We Renounce and Abhor the Pretensions of any other Title whatsoever but that which is established upon those Laws which we esteem Sacred, and which are the Foundation of our excellent Constitution; a Constitution which hath already stood the shock of many Attempts to destroy it, and which we trust will now be preserved inviolable under the Influence of so much Wisdom and Justice as have always shone bright in your Majesty's Conduct and Character.

Which also gives us a pleasing Prospect of securing our Foreign as well as Home-Trade, again revived, after all the Discouragements it has lately struggled under, and by which it was near being given up to Destruction.

And as these are the Blessings which we cannot but expect from the consummate Virtues and Experience of such a Prince, so we for our Parts promise with all Zeal and Faithfulness, to execute the Trust reposed in us, under your Majesty, in such a Manner as to contribute all in our Power to the Peace and Quiet of your Reign, to the strictest Administration of publick Justice, to the suppression of all Riotous and Tumultuous Disorder, by which any evil-minded Men may attempt to cast a Cloud over the Glories of your Majesty's Government, and to the discouragement of every thing pernicious to civil Society.

We beg Leave to add our heartiest Prayers to Almighty God to preserve to us the Blessings we now enjoy, by granting your Majesty a long and happy Reign over us, and to secure those of which we have a glorious Prospect now before us, by watching in a peculiar Manner over all the Branches of your Royal Family, which are the only Pledges of our Happiness in time to come,

May it please your Majesty,

your Majesty's most Dutiful Obedient Subjects and Servants.

From the Leiden Courant, dated Dec. 18.

Madrid, Nov. 27. Yesterday Morning we received an Express, with Advice that the Queen arrived the 19th at Toulouze in good Health, that she was to depart thence the 21st, and intended to arrive at Tarbe the 26th, and that then they would regulate her Road to Ronces valles in order to come afterwards by Pampaluna and Burgos. We understand also, that the Queen Dowager went the 18th from Bayonne to Pau, to meet the Queen her Neice.

'Tis assur'd that the King will also go to meet her two Leagues beyond Guadalaxara, but the Day of his departure is yet unknown. His Majesty continues to take daily the Diversions of Hunting round about the Prado. The Prince of Asturias with his younger Brother is in perfect Health, but the youngest Prince is very weak; however for the Week past he has taken in more Food than formerly, and has been freeer from unnatural Evacuations. The Princess Ursini has been sick, but at present is pretty well recover'd. Don Francisco Izquierdo is made Bailliff of Ribagorça in the Kingdom of Aragon, in Consideration of his good and faithful Services. The Order of the King by which the Inhabitants of this Capital, without exception of Ecclesiasticks Secular and Regular, are oblig'd to give upon Oath to the Alcalde of each Quarter, Lists of the Number of their Families and their Domesticks, is exactly observ'd. The Monks have pretended to oppose it, alledging that they are dispens'd with by Virtue of Privileges from the Court of Rome; but they having been given to understand that the must lay them aside, they come now in Crowds to give in the Lists demanded to the Alcaldes of the respective Quarters of the Town. The Ambassador of Malta having had Audience of the King, wherein he delivered a Letter to his Majesty from the Grand Master, praying his Majesty to order all the Knights of the Order who are in Spain, and are not actually employed in his Majesty's Service, to depart immediately to go to the Grand Master, to assist him in defending that Island against the Irruption with which it is threatened by the Turks, his Majesty has agreed to the demand, and has even ordered that all the Knights who are in his Guards du Corps shall obey with all Expedition the Orders of the Grand Master. 'Tis said moreover, that the King has a design to send some Troops to his Succour, upon the pressing Instances which the Queen has written to him. Our last Advices from Barcelona bring, that Notice has been publickly set up, that all the Partizans of the House of Austria of the two Castiles, Arragon and Valentia, who are retired into Catalonia, must retire within a limited time from all the Dominions of Spain; which gives great Mortification to several among them, who flattered themselves that what was past would be pardoned, and that they might be allowed to retire quietly to their proper Habitations.

Portsmouth, Dec. 22. His Majesty's Ships at Spithead, are, the Rose and Jamaica-Sloop. The Foye sailed from Spithead Yesterday, and put to Sea. The Canterbury sailed into the Harbour this Morning. The Seahorse sailed out of the Harbour this Morning to Spithead.

Deal, Dec. 22. The Ships as last mentioned are still here. The Happy Return is since come down for the Canaries.
